

Co-funded by
the Health Programme
of the European Union

ADVANTAGE JA Expert Panel members and brief CV

Matteo Cesari

Professor at the University of Toulouse (France).

mcesari@gmail.com

Medical Doctor, specialist in Geriatrics and Gerontology, PhD in Preventive Medicine in Older Persons.

Editor-in-Chief of the J Frailty Aging Associate Editor of J Gerontol Med Sci.

Member of the Editorial Board of several journals, including JAMDA and J Am Geriatr Soc.

Research interests: Frailty, Aging, Physical disability, Physical Performance, Gait speed, Body composition, Sarcopenia, Comprehensive Geriatric Assessment.

Stefania Maggi

President EUGMS

stefania.maggi@in.cnr.it

President, EUGMS

Editor in Chief, "Aging, Clinical and Experimental Research"

Geriatrician, PhD, Master in Public Health. Outstanding and wide-ranging expert in the field of ageing.

Research Director, National Research Council of Italy. Aging Section-Institute of Neuroscience. Project leader of the Italian Longitudinal Study of Ageing.

Co-funded by
the Health Programme
of the European Union

Tit Albreht

Head of the Centre for Health Care, National Institute of Public Health of Slovenia.

Email tit.albreht@nijz.si

Ph.D. in health services research at the University of Amsterdam. Associate professor of public health at the Department of Public Health of the Medical Faculty in Ljubljana. Member of the Scientific Committee of EUPHA. Member of the Slovenian Preventive Medicine Society. Member of the Health Council of the Ministry of Health of Slovenia.

Reviewer of several scientific journals and of projects submitted for financing to the European Commission. Senior health services and health system researcher with interests in developing modern patient-oriented and equitable health systems, while assuring high quality and performance.

John Young

Former National Clinical Director for Integration & Frail Elderly, NHS England

john.young@bthft.nhs.uk

Geriatrician. He took on responsibilities as a clinical manager and developed numerous new services including an elderly care assessment unit; a stroke unit; and an orthogeriatric unit.

Research interests became embedded in the clinical work and included evaluations (mostly by RCT) of day hospitals, stroke care and intermediate care services.

Head of the Academic Unit of Elderly Care & Rehabilitation, University of Leeds. Lady Illingworth prize for “outstanding contributions” to services for older people (2009).

Co-funded by
the Health Programme
of the European Union

Fernando Rodriguez Artalejo

Professor of Preventive Medicine and Public Health - Universidad Autónoma de Madrid (UAM).

fernando.artalejo@uam.es

Medical Doctor. Specialist in Preventive Medicine (1986) at La Paz University Hospital in Madrid.

He also obtained professional experience in health administration at the Ministry of Health of Spain, where he held responsibilities in the area of epidemiology and health planning (1985-1990). Visiting Assistant Professor in the Division of Behavioral Sciences School of Public Health at Johns Hopkins University (Baltimore, USA) (1991).

Since 2000 he works at the UAM. One of his areas of interest and work is frailty.

Viktoria Stein

Senior Fellow Integrated Care, Head of the Integrated Care Academy© International Foundation for Integrated Care (IFIC)

viktoriastein@integratedcarefoundation.org

Holds a PhD in health economics, and in her work focuses on how to design contextualized integrated models of care and how to manage the change process towards such models. As a key enabler for change towards person-centred and community-enabling care systems, Viktoria designs and delivers education and training programmes along the continuous learning cycle.

She previously worked with the WHO Regional Office for Europe coordinating the development of the Framework for Action on Integrated Health Services Delivery. During her PhD and PostDoc, she worked at the Institute of Social Medicine of the Medical University Vienna, developing integrated care

Co-funded by
the Health Programme
of the European Union

advantAGE
MANAGING FRAILITY

models for people with dementia and their caregivers, and chronic pain patients among other things.

Iñaki Martín Lesende

Specialist in family and community medicine – Basque Country Health Service

INAKI.MARTINLESENDE@osakidetza.eus

PhD in medicine, specialist in family and community medicine. He has worked in primary health care centers for 25 years. Member of task groups and in charge of research projects and teaching in subjects related to the care of older people and new technologies (telemonitoring) applied to them.

Reviewer in several journals: Atención Primaria, Revista Española de Geriátría y Gerontología, BMC Health Services Research and other from the group BMC, African Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmacology, etc.

Multiple publications in the referred areas. Principal investigator in several research projects with external financing.